- *5 Entrance examination fees are not refundable under any circumstances.

5. Selection Methods

The admission consists of two parts: document-screening and interview. There will be no written examination for this screening, instead comprehensive review of the application documents will be done. Document-screening results will be sent after September 6, 2019.

Short-listed applicants will be invited for the next screening, an interview. The interview will include a presentation on the applicant's Master's thesis or academic papers equivalent to the thesis, and an oral examination. The examination will take place at the Graduate School of Education and Human Development, Nagoya University. However, if the applicant does not reside in Japan, the interview can be conducted via Skype, or other video conferencing system. The interview will focus on applicants' academic skills required for the completion of the PhD program, including research skills, research plans, Master's theses (or past sample of research), and their English language communication skills.

Date and time of interview

Date	Time	Achievement Test Subject
September 25-26, 2019	9:00~17:00 JST (each day)	Oral exam

Interviews are conducted only at this date and time. Applicants must make themselves available throughout the exam time period, regardless of whether they are on-campus or off-campus (for video-conferencing). Applicants will be notified in advance of the approximate time of their interview, but should be available during the entire period and one hour following to allow for time adjustments. Alternate dates will not be scheduled.

[Notes]

- *1 Applicants should have their application documents on hand during the interview, as questions regarding details of these documents may be asked.
- *2 Those who are more than 15 minutes late to their interview will not be allowed to take the oral exam.
- * Unforeseen technical problems using video conferencing may result in a schedule delay, so applicants should be prepared to respond any time throughout the entire exam schedule, and at least an hour beyond. In case of a major delay, we will notify applicants of this fact, and if necessary, make adjustments.

6. Announcement of results

The results of the exam will be displayed on a notice board at the entrance of the graduate school around 5:00 PM, September 30, 2019, and in addition, applicants will be notified via postal mail at a later date. The results will also be made available for viewing online at the website (<http://educa.nagoya-u.ac.jp/info/admission/>) for the convenience of distant applicants. However, only the information posted at the entrance of the graduate school and the mailed notifications are considered official announcements of the results.

7. Enrollment procedures

Notifications regarding enrollment procedures will be sent to successful applicants after decisions have been made.

8. Student payments (subject to change)

Enrollment Fee (one-time fee upon entrance): JPY 282,000

Tuition Fee (annual fee): JPY 535,800

*1 Amounts are tentative, as the fee schedule may change by the time of enrollment.

*2 The enrollment fee must be paid during initial registration.

*3 Successful applicants will be notified about how the fee payments will be made.
